

Theatre Notes

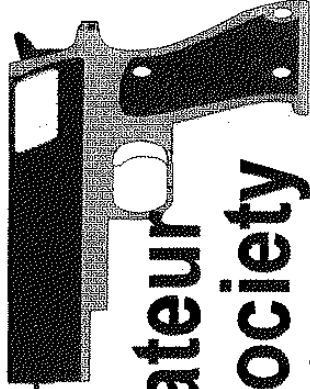

It gives me great pleasure to welcome you to the first production of our new season of plays at Powys Theatre. You will be happy to know that we have returned to our usual four productions this season and begin with a play by the "master" of thriller writers Francis Durbidge. We are delighted to welcome Adrian Weeden and Gareth Woodhouse as newcomers to our stage.

Our next production will be presented during the week commencing 6th December, with booking for Theatre Club Members from Monday 22nd November and general booking the following week. Can I please remind you that tickets are available between 10am and 4pm each day. It would be of great assistance to ourselves and Travelmaster, to whom we are very grateful for their assistance with booking, if these times were adhered to.

Hugh Stephens will be "in charge" of our next production and readings will take place next Monday and Thursday evenings. A warm welcome will be given to anybody who would like to come along.

It just remains for me thank you for your continued support and encouragement and hope you enjoy this evening and the rest of our season.
