Theatre Notes

Welcome to this, the first play of our 42nd season at Powys Theatre.

N.C. Hunter was a local man, from Machynlleth, and this play was performed by our Society in 1957. At that time it was performed in competition with great deal of success and "rave" reviews from the author himself.

We are pleased to welcome Clare Jenkins and David and Val Snowdon to our Society who have provided valuable assistance "backstage" in this production.

On a sad note, during the Summer break, the Society was deeply upset to learn of the death of Doreen Davies. Affectionately known as Do, she was a loyal and hard working member until her illness prevented her from participating. She will be greatly missed.

Our next production will be a suspense thriller performed during the week beginning Monday 14th February, 2011.

We hope to see you there.
