Theatre Notes

The Society welcomes you to the final play of our 45th season at Powys Theatre. We are, also, very pleased to welcome Pam Edwards as a newcomer to our stage.

This dramatic comedy by Alan Ayckbourn, and directed by Alma Conboy and Annabel West, forms part of the "Norman Conquests" trilogy. They say you can choose your friends but not your family and non-more so than when siblings and their partners spend a weekend together one Summer.

Thanks to those members that dressed up to help raise further roof repair funds and delighted shoppers in Morrisons. We are still collecting and donations can be given to our front of house team.

The society is pleased to learn that despite the very difficult situation with funding for the arts in Wales, the extensive play library held by the Drama Association of Wales will be secured for the future and looked after by the Royal Welsh College of Music and Drama. This is great news for amateur societies like ours and will allow us to continue to borrow plays to read and consider for productions.

Again I remind you that we are always looking to welcome new members to our Society to ensure its continued prosperity. So if you, or somebody you know, would like to try acting, help backstage or even just come for a social chat and a coffee, you, and they, would be most welcome. We continue to meet at 7:30 on Mondays and Thursdays throughout the summer.

The next season of plays starts in November, so keep an eye on the local press and the notice boards at the front of the theatre.

It now leaves me to wish you all a pleasant evening and enjoy the show.

Gareth Woodhouse
Chairman
