

Theatre Notes

The society is pleased to welcome you to the final production of our 2015/2016 season, which is also our 47th here at Powys Theatre.

Martin Jones has selected this intriguing play to close the season. Set high on a cliff overlooking the English Channel, this play is full of interesting characters making you wonder who did it right to the end. We are also delighted to welcome Amy Reynolds as a newcomer to our stage. It's always a pleasure to see new members tread the boards.

Although this production will mark the end of our season, we will continue to meet over the summer break, reading plays and carrying out our usual summer jobs to maintain our "little theatre" for your continued entertainment.

Our 48th season will start in November and details will be available in the local press and via our Facebook page. If you are able to we would really appreciate that you like our page and share our posts to your own Facebook friends. We can also email you if you wish. Please leave details with our front of house teams.

Remember, if you have any suggestions for possible future plays for our society to present, we would gladly welcome your comments. Please email the society, leave us a private message on Facebook or leave a note with our front of house teams before you head for home this evening.

As ever I would like to remind you that we are always looking to welcome new members to our society to ensure its continued prosperity. So if you or somebody you know would like to consider acting, helping backstage or even just come for a social chat and a cup of coffee, you and they would be most welcome. We can be contacted as above.
